Brochures.

Promote your business or group with professional brochure templates.

A great way to promote your business or organization is with a professional-looking brochure. But before you hire a designer, try one of the free brochure templates from Microsoft. These brochure templates look beautiful and are simple to use, with tips on how to organize relevant content, add photos, and more.

There are tri-fold templates for brochures for a wide variety of services and organizations, including a brochure template for interior design, architecture, medical services, contractors, and schools. A pamphlet template is another option, great for a vacation rental, dog walking business, landscaping service, and more.

For businesses with multiple products or services, download a brochure template in Word to create a catalogue with all your listings. You can even add an order form and address label to the brochure template for immediate posting.

All templates for brochures are printable and make a statement as a leave-behind or a mailer. Check out the brochure templates to find what works for you.

Baby Series: Printable Baby Book Pages.

I'm so happy to have you back for another post in my Baby Series! Today is pretty fun, I think – and it comes with a freebie! Who doesn't like free stuff? Today I want to share with all of you out in bloggy-internet-land how I decided to get my DIY on for Baby Crafty #2 with my.

Printable Baby Book Pages!

Let's face it, with the second kid, the bells and whistles have long since disappeared. No shower, and not really many baby gifts. (A LOT of hand-me-downs, which can be great all on their own.) I received a baby book from a friend when J was born, and for our newest little guy, I couldn't figure out why I couldn't just make one!

No good reason not to!

We all know (or should check out if you don't!) how awesome Picmonkey is. It has served me well in the past on my various projects like my Monster Spray and our Vacation Wall Art , so naturally it was a no brainer where to get started making my own printable baby book pages! I used J's baby book to reference some good items to include, and added a few new ideas as well. Check out what I came up with:

A $1 binder at Walmart, page protectors, and some card stock, and my custom baby book is ready for #2 to show up! You could also up the "fancy factor" with a plain scrapbook and page inserts from a craft store like Michaels – that's the kind of book J has!

The great part is I can make new pages as ideas pop into my head, or occasions come up! The possibilities are endless!

If you'd like to use my printable baby book pages, you can download them for free below! Please, please link back to me for credit if you are sharing with other people – but do feel free to share away!! These pages are my own design, and are not to be sold elsewhere under any circumstances.

And now you can get a GIRL version here !!

Don't forget to come back and visit for the other posts in my Baby Series!

Links will be added as the posts go live, so pin this now and check back later for all the goodies in one spot! I'm going to share with you:
